

EDUCATING FOR THE WILD

THE GREATEST LEGACY WE CAN LEAVE.

SUNY Potsdam students learning about the role of young people, minorities and stakeholders in realizing a new wilderness ethic and movement of global value. Photo © Dan Plumley

Encounters on the trail. Photo © Ken Rimany

Teaching fly fishing to a novice (Green Tech student). Photo © Susan Bibeau/Adirondack Explorer

2012 "Stewarding the Wild Adirondacks" workshop, organized by Adirondack Wild. Photo © Brian McDonnell

Green Tech students planting potted pine and larch along Upper Hudson. Photo © Dave Gibson

Icehouse Pond. Photo © Ken Rimany

THE ADIRONDACK PARK'S EDUCATIONAL MISSION AND POTENTIAL AS A PROTECTED AREA IS STILL EVOLVING.

We're a catalyst for change by:

- Organizing the 2012 "Stewarding the Wild Adirondacks" workshop, which brought together experts in the field for sharing stewardship successes, lessons learned, and ideas for collaboration
- Hosting wilderness stewardship training tailored to meet the needs of teachers and students of all ages
- Training next generation leadership for the park
- Empowering students to learn from the wild
- Presenting the history of where wilderness preservation began – right here in the Adirondacks
- Building strong partnerships for our wild Adirondack Park

For more on our wild land stewardship training and other programs, go to www.adirondackwild.org.

WE'RE ON THE WILD'S SIDE...

SAFEGUARDING THE WILD | EXTENDING THE WILD | EDUCATING FOR THE WILD

WWW.ADIRONDACKWILD.ORG