

THIS IS NO LONGER A WORKING ADIRONDACK RAILROAD . . . IT'S BECOME THE "JUNKYARD EXPRESS"!

Used oil tanker cars and rail cars are now parked indefinitely alongside "scenic" rivers like the Boreas River and "forever wild" forests of the central Adirondacks.

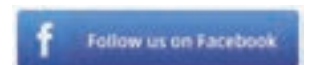

They violate APA and DEC rules. They show the railroad is no longer working. They also benefit nobody but a Holding Company in Chicago (Iowa Pacific).

Singer-Songwriter Dan Berggren has written a song about them, "Junkyard Express."
Find this song at: <https://soundcloud.com/berggrenfolk/junkyard-express>.

But what has Governor Cuomo done about them? Contact the Governor. Ask him to use his authority and his influence to regulate and remove the "Junkyard Express" from the heart of the Adirondacks. Please write or call now: www.governor.ny.gov/contact, or call 518-474-8390.

WE CAN'T DO THIS WORK WITHOUT YOU! THANK YOU.
